Patsy was a loyal and loving friend of my mom's. Cheer-y does not come near the word that would describe Patsy's bubbly little self that always presented whenever she was around. I always felt like she held some delightful secret she was just bursting to share. My most sincere condolences to her family and friends. She lives on.

As a child, we enjoyed many family get togethers at the Hunter house on Allen Road. As all of us cousins played in the yard and darted in and out of the house, perfumed by the ever present pot of coffee on the stove, the adults were seated inside, swapping tables punctuated by waves of laughter and Aunt Pat's unmistakable giggles (and Uncle Bud always knew how to trigger her giggles) which were infectious to us all. Aunt Pat lived her life out loud, guided by a wickedly funny sense of humor and tempered by kindness, grace and love for her family and friends. She truly was a light in this world and illuminated all of us lucky enough to be in her orbit. See you later, Aunt Pat. For now, we will miss you. ❤️

My very first memory of Aunt Pat is at her wedding to my much adored Uncle Bud. As a child, I remember being so angry because she was going to take him away from all of us. I thought he hung the stars in the sky while my Daddy hung the moon. That night I wished she would disappear somewhere out in that night sky. Little did I know looking at this beautiful lady what an important role she would play in my life. She was never too busy to take my calls and listen to my woes over the years. When I grew up and moved away from Wichita Falls, a visit home was never complete without a stop at the home on Allen Drive. As we both grew older, the relationship came full circle as I excitedly looked forward to her calls. She had a bit of a naughty side that makes me smile through my tears as I write this message. Our last conversation just a few weeks ago had me in stitches. I will miss her!
