Clifford Pryor My mind goes back to Alisa Days. I fondly recall you chatting with the ladies--as you worked. I remember Lisa--from our office--helping and being a true friend to you. I remember the one time your check was wrong. We heard you constantly tell us..over and over that it was your supervisor's fault.After Hugo---when you heard Marie talking about the good job Duke Power did--in getting the power back on. She didn't even know that you were listening. You walked over and said-- "Marie---I didn't know you were a Duke Fan."and..we laughed. You had an innocence and caring about you Clifford.I think I passed you recently--walking toward town. and..I know that I saw you during the winter--taking your groceries home.I pray that you are better---in heaven..and that God gives you the BEST--that you deserve Clifford.Hope to see you again.your friendlinda hildreth
