Whenever at the Rorie home, and in particular, around Marcelene, was always a continual shower of love. Right from the southern home cooked meals to the genuine affection shared and felt whenever in her home. It was like being served up a big slice of southern heaven with a dab of cake and butter pecan. Marcelene could always bring a smile to a saddened face and comfort to the down trodden. The world was truly a better place with her in it and her legacy will live on in the lives of her children and grand children. What a heck of a family reunion she is experiencing now. God bless till we meet again
